

Do you want to be rich?

Of course I want to be rich! The hard part is trying to figure out how. I don't want to do anything dishonest, and I don't have any particular talent as a singer, actor or novelist. It would be nice to get rich by inventing some useful item everyone needs, or curing a disease, but it's not likely that I'll do anything like that. I don't have any rich relatives that I can inherit any wealth from, either. So, if I'm going to be rich I guess I had better marry a rich person or win a big lottery.
