

He moved out last weekend.

Because the apartment where he lived was noisy, Patrick decided to move out....

Marci: Has Patrick moved out yet?

Karen: Yes. He moved out last weekend. He's now living in a very nice quiet neighborhood.

Marci: I wonder if he's paying more for rent now.

Karen: I don't have the faintest idea. Even so, it's still worth it, isn't it?

Marci: You're right! I think he's probably very glad to leave that noisy apartment.

Karen: Yes, he is. I know that for sure.

Vocabularies

Neighborhood- The people who live near one another or in a particular district or area

Faintest- Lacking conviction, boldness, or courage; timid

Probably- Most likely; presumably

Expressions

You're right!

Practice

Marci: Has Patrick _____ out yet?

Karen: Yes. He moved out last weekend. He's now living in a very nice quiet _____.

Marci: I wonder if he's paying more for _____ now.