

I lost my cellphone

- A: OH no! I lost my cellphone.
B: Really!
A: Oh my God! All the important phone numbers is in my cell phone.
B: That's terrible! You should have been more careful.
A: Should I report it to the police?
B: That won't help, Forget it and next time beware of pickpockets or snatcher.
A: OH! I feel like such a fool.
B: Oh! Come on! Don't cry, I'll take you home.

VOCABULARIES:

terrible: Causing great fear or alarm; dreadful: a terrible bolt of lightning; a terrible curse.

pickpocket: One who steals from pockets.

EXPRESSION:

- a. Oh No! I lost my cell phone
- b. OH my God!
- c. Oh! Come on! Don't cry

PRACTICES

Should I report it to the _____?
Next time beware of _____.

Express and think:

1. Have you experienced losing something very important to you?
2. What is your initial reaction? What did you do then?
3. Did you learn something after the incident? What is it?