

Priceless Wealth

This is Martin Santos. He lived about hundred years ago. He went to school with other boys and girls. His school was not like yours. Classes were held in the teacher's house. The teacher taught the children how to read, write, sing, count, and pray.

Questions:

1. What are the things you learned from school?
2. Do you think its important to attend classes at school?
3. Is studying at home also good? Why? Or why not?
4. What is being referred as a priceless wealth in the story?
5. Do you value education? Why?