

Ran through the stop sign

Dialogue:

Joseph: Sir, Is there something wrong?

Officer: Yes sir. You ran though the stop sign. May I see your driver license?
please ?

Joseph: Oh! I'm so sorry. I didn't notice the stop signs.

Officer: We can't do nothing about it sir.

Joseph: I didn't mean it.

Officer: But it doesn't justify your violation. May see your license, please?

Joseph: Here it is.

Officer: Thank you sir. Please wait for a while.

Joseph: It's ok...

Vocabularies:

Driver's license- a license authorizing the bearer to drive a motor vehicle

Justify – To demonstrate or prove to be just, right, or valid

Violation - a crime less serious than a felony

Expressions:

Is there something wrong?

- Yes sir. You ran though the stop sign.

May I see your driver license?

- Oh! I'm so sorry. I didn't notice the stop signs.
- Here it is.

Please wait for a while.

Practice:

A: _____ there something wrong?

B: Yes sir. You _____ though the stop sign.

A: I'm sorry. I didn't _____ it.

B: May I _____ your driver license please?

Exercise:

1. Have you been caught by a traffic police officer? If yes, what was your violation?
2. What kind of driver are you?
3. Why do we need to follow traffic rules?