

SIX MORE MONTHS TO LIVE (advance 4)

The doctor has bad news for you: according to him, you only have six more months to live. Most of that time, you will not be bed-ridden, and the pain will be minimal as long as you take your medicine. But recovery is all but impossible.

VOCABULARY:

bed-ridden- Confined to bed because of illness or infirmity.

recovery - gradual healing (through rest) after sickness or injury

fatal- causing or capable of causing death

Questions for Discussion:

1. What is the paragraph all about?
2. What is your idea about death? Are you scared to die?
3. If you were to choose your means of dying how would you like it to be?
4. If your days were numbered due to a fatal illness, what would you do?
5. What are the things that you want to accomplish before dying?
