The Skin Business

In Mexico, the skin business boomed and continues to boom as we speak. By boom I mean exploded, one day everything was normal and the next day there were literally dozens of table clubs all over town.

The skin business which is called that because of the amount of bare skin shown off by the girls (and boys too in some places) is lucrative, cheap, illegally aided and supported by corrupt politicians, authorities and fans of this kind of "entertainment."

Even if most of society does not approve of this kind of business activity, women of legal age "meaning 18 and above" can work as exotic dancers because it is a job. They often make as much or even more than many professionals. Unlike popular belief, the majority of these women are not ignorant or from poor families. Many of these women are either still in university or have just recently graduated.

It is just a way to earn money for whatever they need. I imagine that in Mexico and in the rest of the world, this also applies. The attraction of nudity is not new, it is probably the oldest marketing trick in history, and naked sushi bars are just one more example of this.

I don't believe women consider these types of employment as being insulting if they are making good money, are treated with respect, and with dignity.

Vocabularies:

literally	-	in a literal sense or manner
dozen	-	an indefinite, large number lucrative	-	producing wealth; profitable
aide	-	a person who acts as an assistant corrupt	-	having an unlawful or evil motive
	-	characterized by improper and usually unlawful conduct intended to secure a benefit for oneself or another exotic	-	a striptease performer
insulting	-	to behave arrogantly
	-	To give offense; offend
dignity	-	the quality or state of being worthy of esteem or respect

Questions for Discussion:

1. What is your opinion of men clubs?
2. What is your opinion of men or women that go to these places?
3. What are some other businesses that promote sex?
4. What are some commercials that use sex to sell its product?