

Things do happen.

Storyline: Gregory's roommate locked the door when he left for work. His roommate didn't realize that Gregory was still inside sleeping....

Gregory: I was locked in last night.

Carol: What do you mean "locked in"?

Gregory: Well, my roommate thought I was out, so when he left he locked the door from outside.

Carol: Then how did you get out?

Gregory: I called my neighbor and gave him the key from inside.

Carol: That's a funny story. I've never heard about anyone who got locked in rather than locked out.

Gregory: I know. But things do happen.
