

UNFORGETTABLE BIRTHDAY PARTY

It was my 15th birthday party, everybody were all busy preparing for the said party. The telephone kept on ringing. I also received a telegram from a close friend of mine. My friends never failed to greet me. All the visitors brought special gifts for me. Some of the visitors were good friends of our family. One of them was a pharmacist, who happened to be my godfather; the other one was a florist who arranged the flowers in my birthday party. While the party was going on, the physician-relative of ours started to crack jokes which made the visitors burst into laughter's. I could see in their faces that they were very happy; so, it was enough for me to be happy too. They ate the homemade foods, and they loved the taste so much. After the program, my father lit the fireworks in our garden which made the party even more memorable. The celebration ended--full of happy memories, which would never be forgotten in my whole life.
