

What was the most complex assignment you have had? What was your role?

As a teacher, the most complex assignment I had was when I had to take charge of the classes that were turned over to me by my colleague who just left the company. (for a valid reason of course!) As their new teacher, I had to know all the students and make them at ease with me. Moreover , since my colleague was an effective teacher, taking over her classes was a challenge for me. I had to employ teaching strategies and techniques that are appropriate to each of the students. My role of course, was to continue teaching the students and make sure that the students learn a lot from me which could only be shown if they'll be good conversants in English, eventually.
