

By providing examples, convince me that you can adapt to a wide variety of people, situations and environments.

Honestly, I'm an introvert person but I can change, or I should say, have changed, since my work demands me of it. I can say that I can adapt to a wide variety of people though I may not be close to my officemates but I can interact with them in a professional level, and I know that it is the most important thing - to treat your colleagues and superiors with respect. I know that I have to cooperate to create a good working environment that would greatly help the company to progress. Also, I can work under pressure if that would answer your question if I can adapt to a variety of situations.
